We hope you have many great experiences with your accommodation here at St Andrews - including hosting many a potluck, getting Christmas cards from your neighbours and being on good terms with your landlord and letting agency. Please get in touch (SRCaccommodation@) with any issues regarding accommodation and look out for How To Rent Talks and drop in sessions on our Facebook page (@accommodation-standrews)

DEAR ALL,

So, good news and bad news. The bad news is, the housing market in St Andrews is notoriously competitive. The good news is there are plenty of sources of help, advice and support you can turn to negotiate it. My first bit of advice is that you use it. First off, there's the person you're about to hear from on the next page. Nevena is on hand to answer your questions and signpost you to support. They also run Accommodation Week (Week 7), at which you can find workshops, information sessions and hall talks. You can contact them at SRCaccommodation@

You can also contact me directly at president@, or come into the sabbatical office on the middle floor of the union with any questions or concerns. As part of my job as President, I work with the University on providing accommodation options, setting rents and delivering financial support in the form of bursaries and scholarships. I also work with letting agents and local politicians on dealing with private housing, HMO policy and accommodation legislation.

Finally, you can contact Iain Cupples, the Association's Education Advocate at helphub@ if you want confidential and non-directive advice about your rights as a tenant, and what you can do if you feel like they aren't being respected, or need any other guidance about renting and landlord disputes.

Lastly - and this is important - be sure to look at all your options. If you want to stay in halls another year, then do that. If you want to save money by living outside of the town centre, or even in one of St Andrew's outlying towns, then do that. Just make sure every choice you make is fully informed, and that you ask for help if you need it.

ALL THE BEST,

JAMIE RODNEY
ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT 2019/20

DEAR FELLOW STUDENTS,

One of the biggest challenges you might face at University is finding an affordable warm and cosy home-away-from-home within the small competitive St Andrews housing market. For most of you, this will be the first big test of your acing adulthood abilities, which unfortunately automatically increases the pressure of property hunting above anyone's prior expectations. And although your budget and time might seem infinitely limited, your short-list of potential flatmates – even slimmer and the desirable locations – out of your financial league, the most important tip I can give you is to stay calm!

Your first rented room is not simply a box containing your anxieties and wildest fears of inadequacy, but rather one of the finest slightly cheesy chapters of your own coming-of-age story. This is your time to shine as an interior designer with questionable aesthetic taste pivoting on simple essentials such as LED fairy lights, posters of endlessly quotable movies and empty alcohol bottles. These will collectively act as a stylish background for future episodes of nostalgia, dedicated to the beginning of your independent life here at the University of St Andrews. You will get to keep and cherish these little moments forever and to reminisce about the many imperfections of your temporary home, which often paradoxically make for many perfect memories. Most students find accommodation ideally suited to their needs, and no one ever will be left alone at this, as long as they seek help and support. This is what we are here for!

The SRC Accommodation Subcommittee are a very enthusiastic bunch, who are elected to look out for you with regards to all accommodation related issues. We are your biggest advocate and first line of support, so don't ever hesitate to get in contact either on our Facebook page or via email at SRCaccommodation@. We are here to hold both private and university managed housing accountable and to receive, understand and direct your queries to the right unit of support. We're here to help!

WE WISH YOU THE BEST OF LUCK AND THE BEST OF ROOMS!
NEVENA TSANEVA (ACCOMMODATION OFFICER 2019/20)
AND THE SRC ACCOMMODATION SUBCOMMITTEE 2019/20

THE FLAT HUNTER'S CHECKLIST

1. PICK YOUR FLATMATES ☐
2. GET YOUR REFERENCES TOGETHER ☐
3. FIND A PROPERTY ☐
4. VISIT THE PROPERTY ☐
5. DOUBLE CHECK THE DEPOSIT, RENT & UTILITIES ☐
6. ACCEPT THE OFFER ☐

Don't hesitate to ask questions at any step of the way - at the end of the day this will be your house for at least the next academic year, so you should try to be as prepared as you can be.

If you have any questions you can ask the letting agent in question, or contact us, or reach out to Iain Cupples, Human Resources/ Advocate at helphub@ for independent advice.

FLATMATES

This is a very important stage in finding a house - you need to make sure you find people to live with who are reliable and compatible with you. Take your time! Sharing a house with someone can be difficult and stressful and you don't want to get it wrong. Consider all options as well as your lifestyle in relation to the people you want to live with. Discuss budget, location, timetables, as well as less important and often overlooked details which sometimes cause problems such as music taste, diet and hobbies. Evaluate what you really want from living in a house together.

TOP TIP A GOOD FRIEND DOES NOT ALWAYS MAKE A GOOD FLATMATE!

We are aware that this area can be difficult, so if you do decide that you don't want to live with friends or are looking for something different, keep an eye out for our flat-mate matchmaking scheme and we will do our best to introduce you to like-minded people who you could see yourself living with!

PAPERWORK

FILL OUT PAPERWORK!

It may seem odd that you should fill out the paperwork before viewing a property but believe me you will want this all prepared far in advance. Different agencies and landlords require different information from you including things like a photocopy of your passport, but one thing you will need to have is references such as from your hall wardens, previous employers or tutors. Ask for Hall references early. Most letting agencies do have their own general application form as well and a lot require a character reference.

HOUSE HUNTING

Don't let the nerves of finding a property get to you - everyone finds somewhere to live and there are a lot of options through which you can find a house! The most common place to find properties is through letting agencies, however there are many alternatives, including University managed accommodation. The University manages around sixty properties on behalf of landlords, which means you're much less likely to have problems getting repairs sorted or the property meeting safety requirements.

There are a few things you should take into consideration when looking:

- Number of bedrooms.
- Number of bathrooms.
- Amenities available. (e.g. washer, dryer, dishwasher, oven, hobs.)
- Distance from lectures.
- Distance from supermarkets.
- Distance from recycling points.
- The amount of shared communal space there is.

TOP TIP USE THE MAP AT THE BACK OF THIS GUIDE TO KEEP TRACK OF WHERE PROPERTIES ARE LOCATED AND NAVIGATE YOUR WAY WHEN YOU VISIT.

UNIVERSITY - MANAGED PROPERTIES

University managed properties are privately owned properties let through the University. The properties are located throughout St Andrews ranging in size from two person to five person with one larger property for nine. The fixed term contracts for these properties run from June to June or from early September to June each year.

Application Process:

All students will receive an email to their university account informing them of the exact dates applications open. A list of the properties is available at:

www.st-andrews.ac.uk/accommodation/ug/current/managed/properties/

The applications will be open for approximately one week and can be found at:

www.st-andrews.ac.uk/accommodation/ug/current/applyforaccommodation/

- For University Managed Accommodation you must visit the properties you wish to apply to in advance of applying.
- If you are reapplying to Halls you will be able to choose one hall preference and will be asked to answer questions regarding your social, dietary, and lifestyle preferences.
- You will hear back within approximately one month of applying. If you do not receive an offer of accommodation you can reapply at the end of March.
- All students who do not get an offer will receive an email informing them of the dates for re-application. Re-applying is done by emailing accommodation@st-andrews.ac.uk with "Second Round" in the subject line and your "Name" and "ID Number" in the text field. Second-round applications have a much higher rate of acceptance than the first round.

NOTE: If you apply for University Managed Accommodation you cannot also apply for halls.

For more information contact student accommodation services at accommodation@st-andrews.ac.uk or 01334462510.

RE-APPLYING FOR HALLS

Did you know?

- As a returner, you can specify your preference for room and hall in your application but remember that your first preference is not guaranteed.
- 1793 returning students applied for halls of residence for academic session 2018-2019 and all received an offer (although sometimes not for their first choice). This year there are over 3000 beds for UGs and with similar availability for returners, dependent on number of entrants.
- You can apply as a group of friends.
- The University is offering returning multi-year long contracts. Check in with Accommodation Services (studacc@).
- If you need to stay extra weeks over the Summer, there is limited availability in en-suite accommodation at DRA. Simply make a request to the Accommodation Services Team (accommodation@st-andrews.ac.uk).

For academic session 2020-20

- There were two brand new halls which opened in the 2018-19 session: White Horn and Powell Halls. Andrew Melville Hall underwent a refurbishment recently and was re-opened in fall 2018.
- There are a range of options: standard/en-suite: single/shared: catered/self-catered/(meal card option at DRA): traditional (e.g. McIntosh)/more independent style (e.g. DRA).
- Alcohol-free accommodation is available in DRA/Fife Park.
- If you have a registered disability with Student Services and require special accommodation arrangements, you might be eligible to receive Priority placement. For more information contact them at theasc@ before the accommodation applications open.

The application form will open at noon on Monday 3rd February 2020 and close at midnight on Monday 10th February 2020.

For further information on how to apply please see the following web-page: <https://www.st-andrews.ac.uk/accommodation/ug/current/applyforaccommodation/>

Any questions please contact Student Accommodation Services accommodation@.

IMPORTANT

If you are working within one of the university halls during the summer, you might be eligible to apply for summer hall accommodation at a preferential price. Contact Accommodation Services for further information.

Landlord and Tenant Charter

This can also be a good place to start your house hunting! The Landlord/ Tenant Charter is an agreement that outlines the proper behaviour for landlord-tenant interactions. A copy of the charter is available on the Union website.

Fraud

Recently, there have been a number of instances involving fraud. Properties have been advertised on Facebook and students have sent a deposit without viewing the property first, only to later discover the property was not available to rent. The police are involved in these cases, but for students applying for property they are unable to view it is very important you do some easy checks. Fife Council has a list of all the registered landlords in the county. Unless it is a live-in landlord, it is a legal requirement for them to be registered with the council. If they aren't registered, they aren't renting the property legally. It could also mean they don't have a property to rent at all.

The Student's Association runs a volunteer viewing service for students who are unable to view properties in person: it is a good way to check the property advertised is actually available to rent, search "PAVS" on yourunion.net for more details on this.

For more information look up the National Union of Students tips for savvy property hunting at:
www.nus.org.uk/en/campaigns/the-lock/your-home/rental-scams/

Marks Out Of Tenancy

Marks Out Of Tenancy enables tenants to share reviews, encompassing their entire rental experience, from dealing with landlords and letting agents, to the quality of the area, and their feelings on the properties themselves.

This allows tenants to make more informed decisions about who they want to rent from, where they want to live, and what to expect from an area before they sign their tenancy agreement.

Students will be empowered to make better decisions whilst good landlords and letting agents will be rewarded for the service they provide, standing out amongst those who might seek to exploit a market of mainly first-time renters.

VIEWINGS

In St Andrews you will almost definitely be required to view the property before applying. Make sure you visit at a reasonable time and keep on the current tenants' good side. Often this visit will involve a tour by one of the current tenants so go prepared with any questions.

Here are a few things you should ask about:

- Appliances.
- Living Costs.
- Neighbours.
- Landlord/Letting Agency.

Housing standard – The house you are viewing should be wind and water tight.

The Private Housing Act includes important protections for tenants as well as guidelines regarding tenant and landlord responsibilities.

OFFERS AND CONTRACTS

Accept Offer and Sign Contract

Congratulations! Be proud for successfully being offered a house, but also know that you are not required to accept any offer and that, until you sign the contract, you can easily say no. If you do decide you are not going to accept the offer, let the letting agency/ landlord know. Also, note that it is illegal for a landlord to give your Notice-to-Leave before you sign the contract and move into the property. Once you sign the contract, it becomes official.

TOP TIP DON'T SETTLE ON A HOUSE
YOU DON'T WANT OR A SITUATION THAT WILL BE BAD FOR YOU; YOU CAN SAY NO! YOU WILL FIND ACCOMMODATION.

A basic contract should include:

- How much the deposit is
- How much the rent is and when it is to be paid
- Method of payment
- Whether it is a joint tenancy (where you are equally liable for all the rent and any damages; if your flatmate disappears without paying their rent then you will have to cover them) or an individual tenancy
- Services the landlord will provide such as a gardener
- Who is responsible for paying the bills
- The landlord's right of entry (a minimum of 24 hours except in an emergency)
- You should also receive your Tenant Information Pack providing useful information about your rights and your landlord's responsibilities

Remember, once you have signed your tenancy agreement you are committed to paying rent for that property for the length of your lease unless the landlord agrees otherwise.

You will also have certain responsibilities as a tenant. Remember to settle any agreements with your landlord (for example your responsibility to keep up the garden) in writing.

Are you having any doubts about your contract? Does it look a bit dodgy? Come and speak to Iain or email him at:
helphub@st-andrews.ac.uk

DEPOSITS

Most landlords ask for a returnable deposit to cover any damage within the property, or any unpaid bills or rent at the end of your tenancy. You can't be charged more than 2 months rent as a deposit and often your deposit will be equivalent to one month's rent. This isn't a holding deposit to reserve the property and it is not part of your rent. It should also only be requested after you've signed a contract and can never be used to secure your tenancy. The majority of deposits have to be placed into a Tenancy Deposit Scheme. There are some exceptions to this, such as if you are a common law tenant (living with your landlord). For the full list go to scotland.gov.uk

NEVER PAY A DEPOSIT BEFORE SIGNING YOUR CONTRACT

Deposit Protection Scheme

There are three approved Tenancy Deposit Schemes:

1. The Letting Protection Service Scotland.
2. Safe-deposits Scotland.
3. My Deposits Scotland.

Once you have entered into a rental agreement, the landlord must hand your deposit to one of these schemes within 30 days of the tenancy beginning. The scheme will then write to you to confirm that they've received your deposit. If for some reason this doesn't happen or you suspect your landlord has not followed this legislation you can raise a stage one tribunal which could order the landlord to pay up to three times the amount of the original deposit.

Submitting the deposit to a scheme is your landlord's responsibility. It is also their responsibility to provide you with details of when your deposit was submitted and to which scheme, and the details of what may cause them to withhold your deposit. The scheme will not cost you anything.

At the end of the tenancy the landlord will tell their scheme how much of the deposit should be paid back to you. The scheme will then ask you to confirm that you agree with this and if you do the deposit will be paid accordingly. If you do not agree, a dispute will ensue, which can be referred to the deposit scheme's resolution service.

ENDING YOUR CONTRACT AND GIVING NOTICE TO LEAVE

Private halls and university residences are exempt from the notice to leave policy.

Tenancies can continue indefinitely, unless the landlord is able to invoke a specific criterion to end them. You cannot be asked or pressured to sign a Notice to Leave before you sign your tenancy agreement/move into the property.

Thus, your tenancy is in your hands, you do not have to worry about signing a x term contract, but you do have to be more aware of your responsibilities and the legislation.

It is also important to give your notice earlier rather than later. Your landlord cannot legally advertise the property for any future period until after you have given your notice to leave. Thus, the sooner you do so, the sooner students looking for flats for the following year can see that the property will be available.

If you want to end the tenancy...

You must give either four or twelve week notices (depending on whether you've lived in the property more or fewer than 6 months at the point of notification).

If your landlord wants to end the tenancy...

They must do so based on one of eighteen 'grounds of eviction' and give you four weeks' notice in writing (depending on the grounds that are used and whether you've lived in the property more or fewer than 6 months).

*To end a joint tenancy, all the joint tenants must agree to end the tenancy and sign the notice to leave. One joint tenant cannot terminate a joint tenancy on behalf of all the joint tenants.

YOUR RIGHTS

Tenants' Rights

Tenants' rights are rights granted by the government meant to protect tenants from predatory landlord behaviour. It is extremely important to understand your rights as a tenant, especially since this is the first time most students at this university are renting a property. According to gov.uk, your rights as a tenant include:

- Living in a property that's safe and in a good state of repair.
- Having your deposit returned when the tenancy ends - and in some circumstances having it protected.
- Challenging excessively high charges.
- Knowing who your landlord is.
- Living in the property undisturbed.
- Seeing an Energy Performance Certificate for the property.
- Being protected from unfair eviction and unfair rent.

Right to Entry

Your landlord must give you at least 24 hours notice unless it is an emergency before entering your house. They may want to carry out regular inspections in the house or deal with repairs so you will have to let them in but they should always notify you in advance. You can't reasonably refuse your landlord entry if they've given you proper notice.

The Private Housing Act includes important protections for tenants as well as guidelines regarding tenant and landlord responsibilities.

LIVING IN YOUR NEW HOME

TOP TIP TAKE PICTURES OF EVERY ROOM WHEN YOU MOVE IN. MAKE SURE YOU DOCUMENT ANY DAMAGE THAT OCCURED BEFORE YOU ARRIVED!

On Move In Day

- Check how clean the property and its contents and immediately report anything unsatisfactory to the landlord.
- Take photos of damage such as stains on carpets, cracked walls, sinks & email them to your landlord / letting agent at the start of your tenancy.
- You may be given an inventory of the contents of the flat. If not, make your own. Go through the list and note down if any item is in poor condition, broken or missing.
- Read the gas and electricity meters and make sure that your landlord records the figures too

In the First Week

- Find out when bin collection day is. You can either ask your landlord or check the Fife Council website.
- Set up an account for your electricity, gas & internet/phone suppliers
- You will need a TV license if you watch or record live TV on any streaming site or watch BBC iPlayer. You can apply for a refund of your TV license if you are away from your term time address over summer. If you don't need a TV license make sure you register on the website as well. You don't have to pay for a TV license if you have a TV that you either don't use, only use to watch DVDs, or only use with a gaming console.
- Ensure your term time address is up to date on the University student portal website or you may be made to pay council tax.

The Rest of the Year

Ensure your bills are based on accurate readings, not estimates by updating your meter readings. This should mean your bills are cheaper! If anything breaks, inform your landlord as soon as possible. But don't expect your landlord to be able to fix your dripping tap in the middle of the night - they need a bit of notice too!

If anything breaks, inform your landlord as soon as possible. But don't expect your landlord to be able to fix your dripping tap in the middle of the night - they need a bit of notice too!

Neighbours and Community Relations

Your neighbours will be around for the rest of the year so you might as well befriend them early. It's worth introducing yourself when you move in; most locals are keen to meet students! Town and gown relationships suffer when students play loud music, drunkenly bang around or leave rubbish on the street. Be a considerable neighbour - one day you'll be a local! If a noise complaint is made against you repeatedly your tenancy may come under threat...

It's really important that we keep up good community relations - if you have any concerns or ideas on how to improve this please feel free to email comrels@st-andrews.ac.uk

If Your Landlord Wants to Increase the Rent

The tenant must be given at least three months' notice before any rent increases. Additionally, the landlord must use the correct form to do this, so check that they use the 'landlord's rent-increase notice to tenant(s)' form, which can be found online.

If you think that your rent is being raised unreasonably, then you can dispute this. You must fill out part 3 of the 'landlord's rent-increase notice to tenant(s)' form and return this to the landlord. Then you must contact the Rent Officer within 21 days of being given a notice of rent increase.

If You Want to Have Other People Stay in the Property

(Not as part of a joint-tenancy.)

Unless your landlord agrees in writing, you must not: collect rent from anyone who stays with you, take in a lodger, or give up your tenancy to someone else. If your landlord does agree to any of the above, you should have a written agreement with the person you do sublet to which outlines their responsibility and the liability of all parties.

You must notify your landlord of if you have other people living with you who are NOT part of a joint tenancy — like a partner or a family member. You need to tell your landlord when the property will be empty: for example, you may be away for the Christmas.

IF THINGS GO WRONG

Repairs

If anything breaks down in your house or needs repairing, your landlord or agent has to carry out these repairs within a reasonable amount of time.

The proposed timescales are:

- 24 hours for emergency repairs.
- 7 days for urgent repairs.
- 21 days for non-urgent repairs.

If your landlord is taking too long to carry out repairs without adequate justification, you can ask for compensation for the inconvenience caused. This will have to be agreed on with the landlord, so even if you've not been treated well don't just stop paying rent without getting more advice on your case.

Your house has to meet both the Tolerable Standard and the Repairing Standard in order for it to be fit to live in; you can find more information on these at Shelter Scotland.

You can also approach the First-tier Tribunal (housing and property chamber) to enforce your landlord to carry out repairs if they are taking too long (prhpscotland.gov.uk), or just for advice and assistance on repairs.

Harassment

You have a right to live safely and peacefully in your home. Your landlord must respect this.

A landlord may never:

- Enter your home without 24 hours prior notice, unless it is an emergency.
- Change the locks.
- Cut off the gas, water or electricity supply.
- Tamper with your mail or possessions.
- Threaten you verbally or physically.

If you suspect your landlord might be behaving illegally, or are struggling to negotiate with your landlord, let Iain (helphub@) know as soon as possible. You are also entitled to help from Fife Council.

TOP TIP MAKE SURE TO KEEP A COPY OF ANY CORRESPONDENCE YOU SEND TO YOUR LANDLORD, OR ANY COMMUNICATION THAT YOU RECEIVE.

Landlord or License Enquiries

If you are concerned that your landlord is not landlord registered you should check with Fife Council at 01592583379 or email landlords.registration@fife.gov.uk. You can also check at landlordregistrationscotland.gov.uk but this isn't always up to date. All landlord registration numbers should be on property advertisements. Likewise, if it's an HMO enquiry, contact 01592593162.

Court Action

You can raise Small Claims Court Action (scotscourts.gov.uk) up to a sum of £3000. Organisations such as Citizens Advice or Money Advice Scotland can offer support, as can St Andrews legal clinics where the first session are free - the details are on the university website.

Gas Safety Register

Rental Property needs to have a gas safety inspection carried out annually. Your landlord arranges this. You will get a copy of the certificate. Any of the following organisations provides advice on gas safety:

- gassaferegister.co.uk or telephone 08004085500
- hse.gov.uk/gas/domestic/faqlandlord.htm

Illegal Eviction and Harassment

Frontline Fife at 01334659390

MONEY MATTERS

Check: Rent, Utilities & Deposit

Go over all the information available to you about the property while waiting to hear back and ensure you know, and have, the deposit. You should also use this time to plan out your financials for the upcoming year including your rent, estimated living costs and utilities.

While you are waiting, continue to send out applications and visit other properties - property lists are published throughout the year and it's normal not to get an offer straight away.

TOP TIP* IF YOU DON'T GET A FLAT IMMEDIATELY, DON'T PANIC! NEW ROOMS BECOME AVAILABLE
THROUGHOUT THE SECOND SEMESTER AND EVEN IN THE SUMMER!

Rent and Utilities

Rent is a sum agreed by you and your landlord. Make sure you know exactly what your rent will cover and what you will have to pay extra for. After your original tenancy has expired, your rent may be increased. It is then your decision to decide if you want to keep living there.

Always pay your rent on time! If you're having problems paying your rent or know that it will be late let your landlord know ASAP. If you don't you may face court action, court fees, and even eviction if you don't pay your rent at all.

Sometimes your rent will include utilities but if it doesn't you will need to set this up. Use comparison sites to search for a deal that best suits you but don't forget to inform your landlord if you want to switch utility providers.

FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES

If you have money worries and don't know what to do, don't panic! The university has established many ways to support you and ease your living situation. Rent and living costs might become increasingly hard to cover, especially if you do not receive help from your family or guardians.

In case you feel like you or your academic work are suffering because of financial problems, here are a number of funds you may be able to apply to for help:

- the Discretionary Fund (for UK students)
- the International Student Hardship Fund (for EU and International students)
- the Accommodation Award (if in Halls of Residence)

For a full list of financial aid available visit:

www.st-andrews.ac.uk/students/money/financialsupport/

You may also be able to borrow money from the University if you have a temporary cash flow problem.

IMPORTANT

Do not over-work yourself! If you feel like you are always juggling between your part-time job and your classes and are unable to do your best academically and earn enough to support yourself, seek help!

You can always email the Accommodation Officer at SRCaccommodation@ or meet them for a friendly chat. They can also offer advice, go through the problem with you and suggest what you can do further. Situations like this are not uncommon and you should never deal with them alone.

For more detailed advice regarding any more issues or to make an appointment to see one of the money advisors at Student Services, who can give you advice on seeking the most appropriate funding, email moneyadvice@

HOW TO SAVE MONEY

(AND THE WORLD)

Water and Electric

- Wash your clothes at 30 or 40 degrees - make sure you always put on a full load
- Only put as much water in the kettle as you need
- Check there are no dripping taps
- Switch off lights when you leave a room
- Turn off mobile phone or laptop chargers when not in use
- Use energy saving light bulbs
- Use the 'hibernate' setting on your computer - this way you will use zero energy
- Switch appliances off at the wall when not in use
- Use cold water to un-stick dairy and starches
- Use baking soda and warm water to dissolve grease easily

Heating

- Turn the radiator off when you're out
- Close your curtains at dusk to prevent heat from escaping
- If necessary, turn the heating down and put a jumper on!
- Keep heating on timer especially in cold weather and when you're away for long periods.

GREEN BUILDING

DAVID RUSSELL APARTMENTS

If you are interested in sustainability, energy efficiency and the environment and plan to reduce your impact on the environment while staying in University accommodation, you might want to consider living in the new Green Building at the David Russell Apartments!

For 2019-20 Residential and Business Services have been trialing a “Green Building” at David Russell Apartments. This has been allocated to returning students who request “Green Building” on their accommodation application form. Students should write this in the free text box found under the Further Preference Options on the application form.

Successful students will be allocated to an ensuite building at DRA/FP which has metering for heat and electricity per apartment. You will be able to track your energy data online and see how you are comparing to the other flats in the building. Residents will be encouraged to reduce consumption. There may also be further environmental initiatives trailed in these apartments.

A target for energy use will be set and if the building meets these targets, Residential and Business Services will make a donation to a charity of the residents’ choice.

MOVING OUT

1. Before doing anything, remember to provide your landlord with either the four or twelve week notice as is required per The Private Housing Act
2. Make sure you've paid all your rent, including months you may not even be living there but you signed the lease for.
3. Read your meters for gas and electricity, and make sure your landlord does the same. Then call your gas/electricity provider to say that you're moving out and want to close your account; give them a forwarding address to send the final bill to. When you get a final bill, pay it and send the final statement to your landlord.
4. Your landlord will check the inventory, so make sure you inform them beforehand of any broken items, and replace any damaged items. To avoid 'hourly fees' which landlords may charge for buying replacement items, try to replace things yourself.
5. Make sure not to leave behind anything that belongs to you otherwise you may be charged for their removal.
6. Finally, CLEAN!

TOP TIP!* PUT ASIDE A COUPLE OF DAYS FOR CLEANING - IT ALWAYS TAKES LONGER THAN YOU THINK!

CLEANING AND RECYCLING

Cleaning

- Use a broom to get into the top corners of the ceiling to get rid of any cobwebs.
- Vacuum behind all furniture, including the sofa and behind your bed.
- If you have a stained or really dirty carpet, it might be a good idea to book in a professional to shampoo it. It doesn't cost much and may save money from your deposit; ask your landlord whom they recommend.
- Ask the landlord if windows should be cleaned before moving out - if you don't do it this, it could come out of the deposit.
- Clean the bathroom and leave it in mint condition.

Recycling

When you move in decide where you're going to keep any recycling. Make sure to take your recycling to the tip as often as you can. Any items you no longer need, but are still in adequate condition, you are advised to leave to the StAndReuse scheme. (<https://www.facebook.com/groups/standreuse/about/>) They organise collections at the end of the term and then give everything away during Freshers Week. You might also want to donate your items or clothing to your favourite charity in town.

Best Places to Recycle

- Double Dykes Road Car Park: Glass/Paper/Cans/Plastic Bottles
- Morrisons: Glass/Paper/Cans/Textiles/Plastic Bottles
- West Sand Car Park: Glass/Paper/Cans/Plastic Bottles

Do not try to dump glass in the brown bins outside pubs and restaurants - it might be nearer your house but it actually costs money for businesses to empty their recycling.

Here to represent YOU

Thank you for reading this guide! We hope you found it useful and that you'll have many great experiences with your accommodation here at St Andrews - complete with hosting many a potluck, getting Christmas cards from your neighbour and being on good terms with your landlord.
