The School of Medicine Professionalism and Welfare committee will review applicant cases where there is a potential Fitness to Practice concern.

Applicants must honestly tell the School if they've had criminal proceedings brought against them anywhere in the world.

This includes criminal convictions, fines, warnings, cautions, or equivalents. It also includes driving convictions, penalties, and fines.

After you have declared any of the above, the School will reach out to ask for more information and evidence.

After reviewing your case, the Dean can decide to:

- Let you progress to the next stage of admissions
- Refer your case for further investigation
- Set conditions for your admission
- Reject your application

If you are dissatisfied, you can make a complaint using the Complaints Handling Procedure, only on the grounds of policy not being followed appropriately.
